ON THE PEACE OF INVISIBILITY

Its only enemy the lion the zebra stands on the distance screaming colors
in the shock-lit afternoon.
But at dusk or at night
this favorite animal
blurs on the same horizon
as only unlighted grey
the dissolved horse
of the eye of its only enemy
at last unfrivolous
there but not there.
on the hyperbolic plain
in the hunger of the lion.
"IT WILL BE UP TO THE TRUSTEES TO DECIDE"

"No. 2. Taking Notes for Bertolt Brecht" (7-8-87)

Subs: £30/$45 (5 issues/post) 132 Ditton Fields, Cambridge CBS 82 L