s'illumina lacunosa
la sacrificale pupilla si popola di fiorite claustrali elucubrazioni limando il mondo raffina il suo più vano miraggio ancora spigoli taglienti contro questo specchio minuto in lastre lares o noia di riferite apparizioni che graffia e vicina i cepugli mnemonici from "Dissociated press" it lights up full of gaps the sacrificial pupil peoples itself with claustral lucubrations in blossom filing the world it refines its own most vain mirage sharp edges again against this illuminated mirror

fear
in slabs
lares or tedium
the false plain

of recurring apparitions a bramble

scratching and hooking mnemonic bushes Dear M. Delors,

Why does the income-tax year end on 5 April? Wouldn’t it be neater to move it to 31 March? These questions were put by the House of Commons Public Accounts Committee to the Inland Revenue earlier this year.

Yours sincerely,
